TOBACCO GROWERS

Of Seven States Will Meet at Clarksville, Tenn.

National Tobacco Growers' Association Convention Will Try to Adjust Prices Again.

A large number of leading tobacco growers from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Maryland, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin will meet in convention in Clarksville, Tenn., on October 10 the occasion being the third annual convention of the National Tobacco Growers' Association, of the American Society of Equity, Department of Tobacco.

The department was organized in Lynchburg, Va., November 10, 1904, with an attendance of fifty delegates from Kentucky, North Carolina and Virginia. At that meeting officers were chosen and plans laid for a vigorous campaign of education among the members. At that time the membership of the association was approximately 20,000.

The second meeting was held in Owensboro.

Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana were represented in addition to the state above named. Practical plans for a complete organization of the growers were instituted as were also plans for making co-operative seals and for holding crops until a fair price was offered.

Mr. C. Hays Taylor, of Virginia, with present headquarters with the National Union of the American Society of Equity in Indianapolis says:

"The coming convention means something to tobacco producers, manufacturers and consumers, all three. We confidently expect to perfect our plans for a better system of marketing our tobacco—a system that will shorten the route from producer to consumer; and while it will undoubtedly give the producer more for his product than he would otherwise receive, we do not believe it at all probably that it will make the finished articles cost the consumer more. On the contrary we think it more than possible that prices to consumers can be reduced. But at any rate there is no necessity for farmers to sell their tobacco for less than it is worth, determined by a careful study of the tobacco business from the field to the consumer, and our people are determined not to do it.

Mr. Taylor states that the other Tobacco Growers Associations are to be represented by delegates, so that a conference may be held to discuss the situation in general. He considers the most important work is the adoption of a constitution and by-laws to govern the association. New officers will also be elected.

A Splendid Record of Hartford College.

Last Friday marked the close of the first month of school. The prospects for an excellent year's work were never brighter. The total enrollment in all departments for the month was 232. This is perhaps the largest enrollment for September in the history of the school.

In the teachers' reports which follow there are two items which perhaps should be explained, namely: "per cent. of attendance on enrollment" and "per cent. of attendance on belonging." The first per cent. named is obtained by dividing the total number of days attended by all pupils, by the whole number of days that would have been attended during the month, if every pupil had entered the first day and missed no time. The second per cent. is obtained by dividing the total number of days attended by all pupils, by the same number, plus the total number of days pupils were absent from school before their names were dropped from the roll. A pupil's name is dropped after he has been absent from school three consecutive days. After a pupil's name has been dropped from the roll, he is not considered as belonging until he re-enters.

Primary Department—Enrollment, 48; average daily attendance, 44; cases of tardiness, 1; per cent. of attendance on enrollment, 91; on belonging, 93.

Intermediate Department—Enrollment, 44; average daily attendance, 40; cases of tardiness, 1; per cent. of attendance on enrollment, 92; on belonging, 98.

Grammar Department—Enrollment, 33; average daily attendance, 29; cases of tardiness, 8; per cent. of attendance on enrollment, 88; on belonging, 94.

Sub-Collegiate Department—Enrollment, 34; average daily attendance, 30; cases of tardiness, 1; per cent. of attendance on enrollment, 90; on belonging, 95.

Collegiate Department—Enrollment, 63; average daily attendance, 55; cases of tardiness, 23; per cent. of attendance based on enrollment, 87; on belonging, 96.

Among pupils who have entered since our last report are: Messrs. James Glenn, Muhlenberg county, Forest Salmon, Davless county, Jesse C. Smith, Taffy, Ira Moxley, whose name we failed to mention last week, and Jesse Barnes both of Ohio county.

Owen Jones, Thos. Hamilton and Scott Ambrose were among those who spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes out of town.

POWERS' CASE

Called in Court at Georgetown and Continued Until Next February.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 2.—In the calling of the criminal docket in the Circuit Court this morning, Judge R. L. Stout, presiding, the case of Caleb Powers, charged with being accessory to the murder of Wm. Goebel, was called. Commonwealth Attorney R. B. Franklin and Frank Hendrick were present for the prosecution. Judge James C. Simms and Samuel Wilson represented the defendant. Powers was present and looked better than he has since he has been in jail. Mr. Franklin asked that the mandate of the Supreme Court be filed and noted of record and in view of the fact that the case could not be tried at this term, moved that it be continued, which order was entered. Powers' attorneys made no objection. The matter of asking for bail was deferred.

Preaching at Liberty and Goshen.

Rev. J. A. Lewis will preach at Liberty the Second Sunday at 11 o'clock, and Rev. Frank Baker will preach at Goshen the same day and hour.

A Correction.

Last week in a news item we stated that the Fiscal Court of Ohio county would convene in regular session Tuesday, October 2. We erred as to time as the court convenes the second Tuesday which will be October 9. We relied for our information on Sec. 1838 Kentucky Statutes which provides that the Fiscal court shall hold two regular terms in each year, commencing on the first Tuesday in April and October. But the County Court may by an order of record fix a different date for the commencement of said terms. Provided, that one of said terms shall be held in October. The clear inference is that one term shall be held the first Tuesday in October. But it did not suit the convenience of some county judge at some period in the county's history to hold Fiscal Court the first Tuesday in October as the law provides and he changed it to the second Tuesday. Hence our error.

Doings of The City Council.

The City Council, at its regular meeting Wednesday night transacted quite a good deal of important business.

Councilmen: Simmerman, Pendieton and White were appointed a committee and directed to purchase four car loads of crushed rock to repair Main street and crossings.

The City Attorney was directed to draft an ordinance prohibiting loitering on the streets and throwing rocks, $10 fine for the former and $5 for the latter offense.

An election was ordered for November 6, to take the sense of the voters of the town upon the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $12,600 to construct sewerage system and finish macadamizing the streets.

Various claims were allowed amounting in the aggregate to $241.75.

The council adjourned to meet the 19th, at which time an ordinance will be presented providing for the sale of a franchise for an electric light plant, and water works system.

SUFFERS LOSS OF FOOT.

The Rev. J. D. Walsh Undergoes Operation Following an Accident.

The many friends of Dr. Walsh, in Ohio county, will be pained to learn that his recent injury, which was mentioned in these columns at the time, has resulted in making him a permanent cripple. Wednesday's Louisville Herald gives the following account of his condition:

"Amputation of the left foot was found necessary in the case of the Rev. J. D. Walsh, formerly Presiding Elder of the Louisville Methodist church, at the Deaconess Hospital. Dr. Walsh sustained injuries to his foot in a runaway at Glasgow, Ky., several weeks ago.

Drs. Askenstedt and Clendenin performed the operation, and it was reported last night that Dr. Walsh's condition was improving.

By action of the recent Methodist conference at Greenup, Ky., Dr. Walsh was appointed to the pastorate of Shinkle's chapel at Covington."

County Union Meets To-Day.

The county union of the American Society of Equity will convene here to-day and will be in session two days. Besides receiving the reports from the various locals on the pooling proposition, delegates to the National Tobacco Growers Association at Clarksville, Tenn., the 10th, inst., and to the Annual National Union, at East St. Louis the 23rd, inst., will be elected.

The prospects for Equity were never brighter and the meeting to-day promises to be a good one.

COOL SPRING.

Oct. 4.—School at this place is progressing nicely. Last Friday was the end of the second month. Examinations were held in nearly all grades and fairly good grades were made. Prize cards for the highest average in deportment, punctuality attendance and good recitations were awarded to the following: Karl Davenport, fifth grade; John Rogers, fourth grade; Myrtle Haskins, third grade; Zula Cox, second grade; Nora Miller, first grade; and Ruby Leach, primer. Those who deserve honorable mention at close seconds of those above mentioned are: Bessie Bryant, fifth grade; Jesse Leach, Ina Benson, Irena Cox, fourth grade; Raymond, and Karl Rains, third grade; Hilar Wallace and Lula Hines, first grade. Highest grade of school was made by Karl Davenport. Among the last to enroll were Chilton Elliott and Pearl Growbarger.

Magisterial Convention.

The Republicans of Hartford magisterial district are hereby called to meet in mass convention at Beaver Dam, Saturday October 6, at 2 o'clock p. m., to nominate a candidate for magistrate to be voted for at the regular election, November 6, 1906, to succeed the late Nicholas Barrass. By order of the Com. CHESTER BROWN, Chm. Hartford Magisterial Dist. Com.

KILLED HIMSELF

Did Percy Hunt Instead of Losing His Life in Wreck as Reported.

A dispatch from Rockport, Ky., to the Owensboro Inquirer of date October 1 says:

The remains of Percy Hunt, who committed suicide last Friday by drinking four ounces of carbolic acid, is expected here to-day, the remains having been greatly delayed in transit by washouts on the railroad. Immediately upon the arrival of the corpse it will be transferred to a steamer and taken to Rochester, where interment will take place.

Hunt who was about twenty-five years old, was a mail agent on a railroad running between Arizona and California with headquarters in Los Angeles, Cal.

Last Friday morning he boarded his train as usual to make his regular run. He seemed in the best of spirits and was in a jolly mood until the train reached a small town near Los Angeles. At this point Hunt it is said, left the train and inquired for a physician. Not being able to secure one, he went to a nearby drug store, where he purchased a four ounce bottle of carbolic acid. Upon securing the bottle he immediately turned it up to his lips and drained the contents, before the horrified druggist could interfere. Coolly, as if he had only taken a drink of water, he lay down upon the floor of the store and before physicians could arrive he died in terrible agony.

The body was turned over to an undertaker to be prepared for shipment. Up to this date no cause has been assigned for the rash act. The remains are expected to arrive over the Illinois Central, from Los Angeles to-day. Mr. H. D. Hunt, the boy's father, meets every train that reaches Rockport in hopes that the remains will arrive on the train.

Percy Hunt has a large circle of friends who greatly regret to hear of his untimely end.

This is only one of the many instances wherein the country weekly has outstripped the city dailies.

The thousands who read these special dispatches in these extensive-ly read publications and had not seen a copy of THE REPUBLICAN of date September 7, were probably led to believe that the Mayor announced the appointment of the delegates September 28, whereas he announced their appointment September 6.

News, while it is new, is not always to be found in the city dailies. It is therefore best to have the reliable country weekly.

ALL THE NEWS

While It Is New Is Not Always Found in the City Dailies, as Some Suppose.

It is the general opinion of most people that a daily paper prints all the news and very much in advance of the weeklies, especially a country weekly.

To show that this is not always true we reprint a little news item which we published in our issue of September 7, and in connection therewith reproduce items taken from two of Kentucky's leading dailies:

Mayor J. H. Williams has appointed Messrs. C. M. Barnett, J. E. Fogle, J. F. Carson, R. Holdbrook and Dr. E. W. Ford as delegates to the Fifth State Development Convention to be held at Winchester, Ky., October 10, 11 and 12.—HARTFORD REPUBLICAN September 7.

"HELLO CENTRAL!"

What Wonders Have Been Wrought Since First Call In 1878.

"Hello, Central!" was first heard in 1878. Today the exchanges are numbered by the thousand, the telephones by the millions. Various industries, unknown thirty years ago, but now sources of employment to many thousands of workers, depend entirely upon the telephone for support. Numerous factories making lead sheeting, dynamos, motors, generators, batteries, office equipments, tables and many other appliances, would have to close down and thus throw their operatives into idleness and misery if the telephone bell should cease to ring. The Bell Company employ over 87,000 persons, and it may be added, pay them well. Many of these employes have families to maintain; others support their parents or aid younger brothers and sisters. It is safe to say that 200,000 people look to the telephone for their daily bread. These figures may be supplemented by the number of telephones in use (5,698,000) by the number of miles of wire (6,043,000) in the Bell lines, and by the number of conversations (2,479,500,000) electrically conveyed in 1905. The network of wire connects more than 33,000 cities, towns, villages and hamlets. Such tremendous growth as these statistics show would not only imply a steadily increased appreciation of the telephone, but would also suggest improved instruments, more skillful operators and better service. There would be no flattery in such suggestion. Electrical science has undergone radical reformation since 1878. Telephony has raised the utilization of electricity to the height of a profession. Of course, such advances have not been won without cost. Fortunes were spent in experiment and investigation before a dollar came back. Communication by the first telephone was limited to a few thousand feet. Now conversation can be carried on by persons 1,600 miles apart. To-morrow long distant lines will span the continent; and the day after oceanic telephony will be a commonplace of mercantile routine. But science and money had to collaborate for years before they could work the miracle of enabling Boston and Omaha to talk together.

Human Blood Marks.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bae, Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by Z. Wayne Griffin and Bro. druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Western Ignorance.

Francis Wilson was talking at the Players' Club about the ignorance of dramatic literature that is too prevalent in America. "Why," said Mr. Wilson, "a company was playing 'The Stoops to Conquer' in a small Western town last winter when a man without any money, wishing to see the show, stepped up to the box office and said: 'Pass me in, please.' 'The box office man gave a loud, harsh. 'Pass you in? What for?' he asked. 'The applicant drew himself up and answered haughtily: 'What for? Why, because I am Oliver Goldsmith, author of the play.' 'Oh, I beg your pardon, sir,' replied the other in choked voice, as he hurriedly wrote out an order for a box."

Women Asks Leave to Talk.

Mrs. Mary Depaul of No. 953 Filmore street, Cincinnati, has resorted to the same in an endeavor to talk at night. The bell suits against:

the Foss Schneider brewing company asking for an injunction restraining the operation of the plant at night. She gives as her reason that the noise made by the operation of the plant prevents any social conversation at her house in the evening. She says she is suffering from nervous prostration as a result of her endeavors to make her neighbors hear what she says to them.

Drop by drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to mean Chronic Bronchitis. The certain, rational cure for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application cannot be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

How Mean of Him.

The red moon reflected on the breakers as they dashed against the dark rocks. "Oh, the foam!" cried the poetical girl, with rapture in her voice. "The oceans of foam! Where did you ever see so much foam before?"

The young man chuckled reminiscently. "In Milwaukee!" he whispered, gleefully. "In dear old Milwaukee." And the poetical girl refused to speak to him again for an hour.—Chicago News.

Knew the Rules.

Marshall P. Wilder says that the small son of a friend in Brooklyn came home one day with a badly-disfigured face. The "old man" took him aside for the usual heart-to-heart talk.

"What have you been up to now?" asked he.

"Fightin'," answered the lad sullenly.

"And after all I've said to you about fighting!"

"He smashed me on the cheek."

"How often have I told you that the Good Book bids us turn the other cheek?"

"I did, dad—honest; but he smashed me on the nose. I call that a foul; so pitched in and licked the stuffin' out of him. Dad, he's been to Sunday school just as much as I have, and he ought to have known the rules!"

Turtle Terrorizes Post Office.

A big snapping turtle, which suddenly made its appearance in the post office at Middletown, N. Y., while the clerks were busy assorting mail, created a sensation which not soon be forgotten. Where the tortoise came from is a mystery, but it is supposed to have been in one of the mail bags.

It was first discovered on the floor hurrying toward one of the employees who quickly took refuge of a table, while others of the department gave it a wide berth, as the turtle appeared in an ugly mood. A colored man finally arrived and captured the unwelcome visitor for soup.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail.

Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CALEB POWERS

Talks of His Coming Trial. Time It Will Be And Who Will Be The Judge.

Georgetown, Ky., Sept. 29. The Leaders correspondent called upon Caleb Powers at the Georgetown jail this afternoon and asked, "Will your case be called up and set for trial at the approaching term of the Scott county court?"

"I cannot say about its being set for trial. It will certainly be called up. My attorney will be here Monday and will press for a speedy hearing."

"If you cannot get a trial some time this year, have you any other steps to take in your case?"

"Yes, sir; we will make a motion for bail. I have always been entitled to it Judge Hargis was given bail in three cases on the same kind of a charge as mine. He is under bond in two cases now."

"What do you think of your chances for an acquittal this time?" queried your correspondent.

"I will never be convicted unless the jury is packed and fixed for conviction."

"Who will try you this time?"

"I don't know. I understand that State administration at Frankfort is to bring strong pressure to bear on Judge Robbins to try me again. It is said that it as well as the prosecution is afraid to trust Judge Stout to give the character and mock trial to which I have always been subjected."

A Diplomatic Young Woman.

Senator Long said of diplomacy at a dinner:

"That was a very diplomatic young woman whom I heard about the other day."

"What do you do," some one said to her at a ball, "when a man persists in asking you for a dance, and you don't want to dance with him?"

"I tell him," she replied, "that my card is full."

"But, supposing it isn't, and he still persists?"

"Then," said the young woman, "I insist it is, and at the same time let him see it isn't."

How to Save $60,000,000.

(Farmers.) The United States imports annually about $60,000,000 worth of drugs and dyes made from products that could be grown in the United States just as well. Camphor now sells for twenty-five cents a pound, and while not an ounce of it is grown in this country the Government has demonstrated that camphor trees are successful here. Licorice root is another thing that possesses great possibilities. The Department of Agriculture has demonstrated that the licorice plant is hardly as far north as Pennsylvania. Belladonna has also been shown to do well in good garden soil. The only way to determine absolutely whether these various special crops can be grown successfully is to try them and it is well to do this in a small way at first.

Insurance Department of Kentucky.

Frankfort, Aug. 13th, 1906. Whereas, The National Life Insurance Company, located at Montpelier, Vt., is possessed of the actual capital required under the laws of this Commonwealth, and has complied with all the requirements of said laws which are applicable to Life Insurance Companies incorporated by or doing business in other States of the United States:

Now therefore, I, Henry R. Prewitt, Insurance Commissioner for the State of Kentucky, in pursuance of the authority vested in me by the laws of this Commonwealth, do hereby certify that C. M. Barnett and C. E. Smith, of Hartford, in the County of Ohio, are authorized as Agents of the aforesaid Company to transact the business of Insurance for one year from Aug. 1, 1906, in this State, as provided by the laws thereof.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and caused my official Seal to be affixed on the day and year first above written.

HENRY R. PREWITT, Insurance Commissioner.

Wants New Name.

Vaughan Taylor Borgenski, of Bala, Pa., has naturally caught the simple spelling fever, so popular with President Roosevelt. Borgenski wants his last name changed to Borret, because with his present name he is up against all sorts of perplexities.

In the first place it is hard to spell then it is harder to remember, and as a conspiracy he believes that his business as draughtsman in Philadelphia would be more profitable to him if his name were not such a "stuper."

He asserts in his petition that he is daily called many different names and that many communications intended for him are either never written or go astray because the writer is unable to remember or properly spell his name.

The court is holding the matter under advisement.

Defined.

Small Boy—Pa, what is an optimist?

Pa—An optimist, my son, is a man who doesn't care a blank what happens, so that it doesn't happen to him.

A Smooth One.

Small Talk.

J. Peckham—But, my dear, I'm sorry to say you lack the courage of your convictions.

Mrs. Peckham—Now, what in the world do you mean by that, Henry?

Peckham—You say there is no use talking; and then you go right ahead and talk some more.

Perjures Himself to Shield Man.

In an effort to save her brother-in-law, H. A. Druggers from jail, Mrs. Jane Hawkins of Houston county, Ala., swore before the United States commissioner at Troy that she owned and operated a moonshine still captured from Druggers and others. Her statement availed nothing, as the man was adjudged guilty.

The still was captured in a remote section of the state after a hard ride and the woman insisted on taking the long journey for the trial. She did everything she could to shift the blame from the man, but failed.

Washington Letter.

Much satisfaction has been expressed over the determination of Secretary Shaw to deposit $26,000,000 in government funds with the principal depository banks of the country in order to help out the present money stringency. What the banks are most in need of at the present moment is ready cash, and the government is willing to receive in the Treasury as security any bonds, which, according to the laws of New York and Massachusetts have been rated as satisfactory security for savings banks. The liquid funds thus made available will help out considerable in the interior where ready money is required for moving crops. The larger deposits, of course, will go to New York and Chicago, but 26 different cities from Boston, Mass., to New Orleans and Sioux Falls, will also benefit, and while some of the money may be used in speculation as the movement of the stock market indicated soon after the announcement of these deposits was made, it will help the country at large at a time when the money market was sorely in need of help.

In the general anti-trust campaign which has now been inaugurated, much the most important movement is the preparation of the suit against the Standard Oil Company, which only awaits the approval of Attorney General Moody before it is put into effect. Just how this campaign is going to be conducted has not yet been divulged by the government, but three of the best corporation lawyers obtainable have been retained as special counsel for the department of justice. They are Messrs. Purdy, Morrison and Kellogg, the latter for sometime counsel for the United States Steel Corporation, and whose situation in that corporation became unpleasant, if not untenable, because he was not willing to lend his services in the fight against the Northern Securities Company. All three of the gentlemen have kept in close touch with Commissioner of Corporation Garfield in the investigation that he has made during the past two years of the Standard Oil Company's business methods. It will be recalled that one section of this report already has been published, and the methods of the Standard brought to light were in themselves quite enough to justify a prosecution under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Cripple Cured by Dream.

Because he dreamed that robbers had attacked him, George Gilpin, of Marion, Ind., an aged man who has been a bedridden cripple for years, is able to walk.

Gilpin suffered from dislocation of the hip, but when he dreamed that thugs were about to strangle him he struck with both hands and kicked with both feet. When he awoke he was doing gymnastic feats worthy of an athlete.

He was greatly surprised to find that he was using his right leg, which had been powerless for years. He attempted to walk and found that he could. Surgeons say that while Gilpin was asleep the muscles and tendons became relaxed and when the violent exercise brought about by the dream occurred the dislocated hip joint dropped back into place.

Back to First Love.

A marriage recorded at Portage, Wis., September 13 concealed the romance of Joseph Waldo of Sedalia, Mo., and Mrs. Martha Kennedy, of Endeavor, it being their second appearance at the altar together. When they were younger they met, loved, wedded and raised a family. Mrs. Waldo concluded that after several years, that they could do better alone. There were no differences other than financial, and when the separation took place she accompanied her husband to the station and kissed him good-by.

She obtained a divorce, married three other men and divorced them. Waldo and Mrs. Kennedy finally decided to marry again, and to-day she stepped to the altar for the fifth time.

Complete Costume of a King's Wife.

Princess Clementine, mother of the prince of Bulgaria, said one day to her sailor brother, the Duc de Joinville: "Bring me on your next trip to the south seas the complete costume of a king's wife." "I will gladly," the duke answered. He returned from the south seas a year later and handed to his sister a string of glass beads. "These are very pretty," said the princess, "but you promised me a complete costume." "This is a complete costume," said the duke. "I have never seen them wear any other."

English Sparrows.

English sparrows are real pests. They are too small to eat and too large to be ignored. They are supposed to be ubiquitous and are known to be iniquitous.

English sparrows are closely related to the devil.

They have appetites which justly belong to geese, and their capacity for making a noise excels that of ten thousands guineas. They were brought to this country to destroy a few harmless worms, but are destroying the country and leaving the worms.—Ex.

SIXTEEN CHICKENS.

Hatched on Train Flying Across the Country.

Arkansas Hen Did Not allow Moving to Another State Interfere With Raising Family.

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—In some corners of Kirkwood it is not considered polite to inquire too closely as to the origin of a man's chicken or whether they were raised in Missouri, in Arkansas or from a low roost on a dark night. Horace E. Hand, of that town, however, is much interested in the nativity of seventeen fowls he received from George E. Dent, of Lawrence county, Ark., a few days ago. He had asked Mr. Dent to send him some baby chickens for his little girl, and Mr. Dent, who had no small chicks on hand, shipped a plymoth Rock hen and her nest of sixteen eggs.

Soon after leaving her Arkansas home the old hen began to announce with excellent clucks that her three weeks work had not been in vain, and fluffy little chickens began to appear. At Imboden, Ark., there were six chickens and back counties to hear from. The passengers of the train became deeply interested and made frequent inspections to court the brood and speculate on the next edition. As the train approached St. Louis fifteen of the eggs had produced chickens, and the passengers were disposed to agree that the old hen had accomplished all that could reasonably be expected of her.

At Tower Grove station, ten minutes before the train was due at its destination, the old hen triumphantly clucked the announcement that her maternal labors were crowded with complete success, and the sixteenth chicken was at St. Louis.

Can you win? You realize that to win in anything these days, requires strength, with mind and body in tune. A man with disordered digestive organs is not in shape for a day's work or day's play. How can they expect to win? Kodol for Dyspepsia contains the digestive juices of a healthy stomach and will put your stomach in shape to perform its important function of supplying the body and brain with strength building blood. Digests what you eat, relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, palpitation of the heart and constipation. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Modern Music.

She—Why did Prof. Schnicked stop playing at Mrs. Lard's musical?

He—He said he had to because the conversation was not pitched in the same key as his music.

When a horse is so overworked it lies down and in other ways declares its inability to go further, you would consider it criminal to use force. Many a man of humane impulses, who would not willingly harm a kitchen, is guilty of cruelty where his own stomach is concerned. Overdriven, overworked, what it needs is something that will digest the food eaten and help the stomach to recuperate. Something like Kodol for dyspepsia that is sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

A Villima Prayer.

Give us courage and gayety and the quiet mind. Spare to us our friends, soften to us our enemies. Bless us, if it may be in all our innocent endeavors. If it may not, give us the strength to encounter that which is to come, that we be brave in peril, constant in warmth and in all changes of fortune, and down to the gates of death, loyal and loving one to another.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Keep the bowels open when you have a cold and use a good remedy to allay the inflammation of the mucous membranes. The best is Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates, moves the bowels, drives out the cold. It is reliable and tastes good. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Prices of 1893 and 1906.

(Owensboro Inquirer.)

The Unionville (Mo.) Republican prints a comparative table of prices of the products of Putnam county by years from 1893 to the present time. It is a convincing exhibit of changes for the better. The difference shown is of surprising extent, Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. It is one of the best manufacturers of products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Blood-root and Marshmallow root, or the extract of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Robert A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pennsylvania; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., of Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land. Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

and every citizen has an interest in the lesson of the figures. Ten or twelve years ago a sheep in Putnam county sold for 50 or 75 cents. Now it brings from $4.50 to $5, and the wool that sold from 8 to 14 cents a pound in 1895 now commands from 24 to 27 cents. At the same time consumers pay no more for clothing. The average price of horses in 1895 was $46. Now it is $181. A mule that sells to-day for $150 could have been purchased for $25 or $30 between the years 1893 and 1896. Other gains for the producer in the ten years have been 90 per cent. for eggs, 60 to 80 per cent. for chickens, 80 per cent. for turkeys, 500 per cent. for hides and from 15 to 30 per cent. for cattle.

These figures are taken from actual business records in Putnam county, and are practically the same that prevailed in other parts of the state. At the same time employment at the best wages is now obtainable by all. Every person able and willing to work can get a job, and the pay was never as good as now. A dozen years ago in some parts of the northwest horses were turned loose as valueless, and sheep put up at auction by farmers starved out by low prices went at 25c each. Those were the days of the Wilson tariff law, when the protective rate on wool was struck down. The story told by the Putnam county comparison is one of vital consequence to every Missourian in connection with the ballot to be cast at the approaching election. They can be verified all over the state. The voters who slight their plain meaning injures himself and gives his influence against the continuance of the prosperous conditions that now surround him.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and thereof requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

HANDSOME BUILDING

To Be Erected at Fordsville at an Early Date and Other Items of Interest.

(Owensboro Inquirer.)

The Fordsville Real Estate company will be incorporated with $5,000 capital to erect a modern brick or concrete building on the Wade corner. This building will contain four rooms and will be occupied by a clothing store, drugstore, the postoffice and the Farmers' State bank. Plans are now being drawn by Kimberlin & May, of Owensboro.

The Fordsville Lumber company has taken the contract to build the Equity tobacco warehouse. The warehouse will be 50 by 100 feet, and five-stories high, including basement and attic story. It will be built on the north side of the L. H. and S. L. railroad. The cost of the building is to be $3,200.

Mr. Frederick A. Roby has been appointed substitute letter carrier, No. 1, of Fordsville, L. W. Hunt, having resigned.

Henry Crowder was born February 12, 1826, and died September 26, 1906, at his home near Raizetown. "Uncle Henry," as he was known to every body, was one of the most lonely characters in his community. No man stood higher in the estimation of his neighbors. His remains were interred in the family burying ground on his home place attended by a large concourse of his friends and relatives. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. G. Stewart. C. F. W.

The Arkansas Hog.

A man who had watched the affair and claimed to know about hogs, razor backs in particular, gave the following dissertation: "Arkansas has a greater variety of hogs and less pork and lard than any state in the union. An average hog in Arkansas will weigh about fourteen pounds when dressed with his head on, and about six pounds and a half with its head off. It can outrun a greyhound, jump a rail fence, climb like a parrot and live on grass, roots and rabbit tracks. It hasn't much tail or bristle, but plenty of gall. It will lick a wolf or a bear in a fair fight. It is so-called razor-back because it is shaped like a sunfish. In hunting razor-backs they are always shot at sideways, for there is not a ghost of a show to hit them otherwise, any more than to shoot at a split shingle. It can drink milk out of a quart jar on account of its long, thin head. This type of razor-back is known as the stone hog because its head is so heavy and its nose so long that it balances up behind. The owner of this type of hog usually ties a stone to its tail to keep it from overbalancing and breaking its neck while running. If the stone is too heavy it will pull the skin over its eyes and it will go blind.

Elizabethtown Merchants Cooking and Lawyers Taking Care of Babies.

(Elizabethtown News.)

The labor problem in Elizabethtown is getting at an acute stage and domestic help is getting scarce all the time. If it continues like it has been going for the past year the white people will be put up against the most serious problem that ever confronted them. This week a well known dry goods merchant had to leave his store and cook his own meals. A lawyer had to leave an unfinished brief to take care of the baby while the wife did the cooking and a well known society man says it will soon be up to him to do his own washing or wear dirty clothing.

A Giant Baby.

Multiply by three the love, solicitude and care lavished by the average mother of the average babe, and Mrs. Rudolph Shotwell of Staten Island, N. Y., says the material mind can grasp what the presence of Ethel, Shotwell, aged 13 months, means in her household. This is because baby ethel is three times most children of her age. So far as is known she is the biggest baby of 13 months in the world.

Here is some of the babe's measurements: Bust measure 33 inches; arm above the elbow, 10 inches; half way between elbow and wrist 8 inches; thigh measure, 18 inches; around the knee, 12 inches; at the ankle, 6 inches; height, 36 inches; weight, 71 pound.

The child is quite as remarkable for baby bright and good nature as she is for size. Her head, feet and hands are well proportioned. Mrs. Shotwell has also a daughter 4 years old, and, so far as size is concerned like other children.

It has been a prodigious effort to rear Ethel. No baby shoes can be found big enough to fit her. Three yards of cloth are necessary to make her a dress, and patterns have to be adapted for her. Mrs. Shotwell says mothers who have had to carry around in their arms heavy babies can appreciate her joy now that she has obtained a go cart.

Mrs. Shotwell was born in Austria twenty-one years ago. She was one of eighteen children and was married at the age of 14. Her husband is an oyster man and was born on Staten island.

If any of our voter readers failed to register Tuesday, it was not our fault. We warned them last week.

It looks very much like the State machine has arranged a coat of whitewash for the Eastern Asylum scandal.

WE would be glad if Grover Cleveland would break the silence long enough to tell us what he thinks of present politics.

NEW YORK Democrats claimed they would "put Hearst off at Buffalo." They failed, and must now do it in November.

MR. BRYAN is still busy down south patching the punctures, which he gave his tire during that Madison Square garden speech.

A VOTE for Heavrin, is a vote for a continuance of the present Republican policies, which have proven so beneficial to the country.

OUR information is that Dr. A. D. James is making a winning fight over in the "bloody third," and will be far in the lead in November.

WE understand that Mr. Hager, who is running for the Democratic nomination for Governor, in his speeches tries to unsaddle the odium of the dog tax on the Republicans, because some of them voted for it. This is the "unkindest cut of all." Those who kept up with the various disgraceful acts of the late unlamented Legislature will remember that the dog tax act was fathered by Mr. Croan, of Bullitt county, who is a Democrat, and that it was passed by a Democratic majority, and signed by a Democratic Governor. When you pay your tax on little "Fido," don't charge it up to the Republicans.

THE City Council did its part Wednesday night when it ordered an election on the bond question. It is now up to the voters to say whether we shall provide against disease and death, which may come to our loved ones as a result of the unsanitary condition of our town, by providing a sewerage system. Equality in the benefits derived from taxation also demands the macadamizing of the rest of our principal streets. As it is, one part of the town enjoys rocky streets while others contribute to pay for, and maintain them. Let us all enjoy some of these benefits and as soon as possible. There is no danger of making taxes any higher. The rate is at the limit.

THE REAL MENACE.

The statement by the Hartford Herald that "every farmer knows the tariff to be a menace to his business," will no doubt be received with a reverberating hal hal by those farmers who remember the despairing days of the last Democratic tariff law, under Cleveland. The kind of a tariff which "menaces" their business, is the kind under which they sold sheep at $1.00 to $1.25 per head, wool at 5 to 10 cts. per pound, milch cows at $8.00 to $12.00, mules at $25.00 to $30.00, calves at $1.50 to $2.25, good horses at $20.00 to $40.00. Every other kind of farm product was selling at ruinous prices. It is true farm hands were cheap. A farm laborer, who now gets $18 to $20 per month, could have been employed then at $8, but no one could use him at any price. Laborers of all kinds were tramping the country begging for employment on the farm, in the shop, anything to keep the wolf from the door. Thousands of them were "menaced." Not by a protective tariff, but by starvation. They had been turned out in the cold by closed factories, all over the country. Many of them, instead of being consumers and maintaining a market for the farmers' products, became farmers and competitors.

The only kind of tariff which "menaces" the farmer is the one which the Democrats put on the statutes in 1894.

BECKHAM AND ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

No possible good can come to the Anti-Saloon League in Kentucky by taking part in the present disgraceful contest between Gov. Beckham and Senator McCreary. Whenever it does so, it weakens itself with a great many people.

One M. B. Adams, who poses as the head of the organization in the State, is flooding the post offices with a circular letter in support of Governor Beckham. At the same time the Governor's Capitol Square policeman stands indicted by the Franklin county grand jury for operating a blind tiger on the new Capitol grounds, and the charge of Senator McCreary that the Governor has accepted money from the liquor interests for campaign purposes, stands undenied and his policeman still holds his job.

Senator McCreary charges that the Governor has been in office six years and has only been anti-saloon two months. He also says that he has traveled with the Governor, often sleeping with him and is "acquainted with his habits."

In view of these facts, it seems to us that it would be wise for the Anti-Saloon League to call off Mr. Adams, and that Methodist Conferences and Baptist Associations would do well to confine themselves to the work of saving souls, instead of passing resolutions in the political interest of one whose sincerity is thus openly and notoriously questioned.

THE HERALD'S PHANTOM.

"Secretary Shaw has again come to the relief of the money market by loaning the Wall street financial sharks a few millions of the public funds without interest or security other than national bonds. This money is loaned at high rates of interest to stock speculators. Who says the administration is divorced from Wall street influences?"

Reader, you may think the above quotation is from the "Financial World," or some other great authority on finance, but not so. It is from our own, and "owliest," Hartford Herald.

How dare Secretary Shaw loan money to those poor "Wall street sharks" with no more security than "National bonds?" Maybe it was done in his absence. We cannot believe but that had he been there, he might at least have exacted a chattel mortgage on their shirts. Or, failing in that, he might have required them to deposit their pocket knives as additional collateral. Anything to bolster up those National bonds.

Now, gentle reader, don't tell the Hartford Herald, the awakening would be too sudden, but that money, $26,000,000, is loaned to National banks, which are United States depositories. They are situated in every city of any importance in our country. Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, New Orleans, any and all of these cities, far removed from the "Wall street sharks," may have it. It is loaned so that the people may have the benefit of its circulation, instead of being locked up in Treasury vaults, and of no benefit to the government or her people who compose the government. If it was kept there, the Hartford Herald, and every other anti-administration paper, would be up in arms against the Secretary for depriving the people of the use and benefit of this money. "These 'Wall street sharks,' which continually persist in swimming in the Herald's imagination pool, are mere phantoms. The administration at Washington is not married to Wall street influences, and hence needs no 'divorce' from them.

Secretary Shaw to Speak at Leitchfield.

Secretary of the Treasury, Leslie M. Shaw will speak at Leitchfield next Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 1 p. m. He is one of the finest speakers in the United States, and it will well repay any one to make the trip to hear him. He should have a large delegation from Ohio county. It will be necessary to go on the early morning train to reach Leitchfield in time. The return can be made on the evening local.

Former President Palma has vacated the Palace in Havana and Gov. Taft will take up his residence there during the week. The disarmament proceedings are going on without a hitch in the vicinity of Havana. Elsewhere they have not yet begun. While there is some question as to whether the disarmament will be accomplished in the Cienfuegos region without some friction, no position of consequence is anticipated. The American marines at Camp Columbia have been ordered to keep within the Government reserve, so there will be no mixing with the rebels and little with the Government soldiers.

A UNIQUE CALL TO PREACH.

Received the Summons from the Mill Pond Bullfrogs.

Ex-Gov. Anthony Colby, of New London, N. H., was an inveterate story teller, and enjoyed telling stories as well as his hearers did in listening to them. When the writer was in attendance at the New London Literary and Scientific Institution, now Colby Academy, with other students, he was sitting around the stove in a store one winter's evening, when he heard the governor relate this story:

A man by the name of Bunker, living almost under the shadow of Kearsarge, thought that he had a call to preach, but was not quite sure of it. His mind was in a state of uncertainty for some time. One night, just at dusk, he was passing by a mill pond in a town adjoining New London, where the bullfrogs, or "paddockers," as the boys called them, were holding high carnival, and he thought that he heard them calling to him, singly, and then in full chorus: "Bunker, go preach! Bunker, go preach! Bunker, go preach!"

That, to his unsophisticated mind, settled the question of a "call," and it is said that he told the story before the council that ordained him. At any rate, he was accepted and ordained, not on account of his learning or eloquence, but more, perhaps, on account of his simple-mindedness, and he did good work in the hill towns in the Granite state.

ENGLAND INTERESTED IN COTTON.

That Country Dependent Upon Us for Its Prosperity.

Uncle Sam holds the prosperity of Great Britain in his hand. Few realize the extent to which British industry is dependent upon the cotton growers of the United States. Practically all the raw cotton is imported by British ships, the cotton exports are handled by British shippers and merchants, and the entire profits from the industry are thus enhanced by many millions. Three-fourths of England's gross profits from cotton were derived from the manufacturing of the American product. The statistics are so significant from an American viewpoint as from the English. American shipping might profit largely from the cotton carrying trade, and American manufacturers might secure all the profits that now fall to the English. Many far sighted Englishmen already appreciate the possible result of such an awakening on the part of Americans. They know that the loss of the American raw product from any cause would precipitate a period of industrial depression more severe than any recorded in the past, or possible in any industry. It is on this account that every effort is made to develop new cotton fields in the cotton belt of the earth. It seriously is suggested that English capital should be invested in the southern states, in order to secure land enough to raise at least 3,000,000 bales a year.

NATURE THE GREAT HEALER.

In the new system of therapeutics it is as essential that disease be prevented as that it be cured. Nature is the healer and if given proper encouragement, it has been discovered that she will right the wrongs committed by ignorance and misunderstanding. If we know of no drug that can heal affected lungs we have learned that right living will prevent the lungs from becoming affected and we know that in the incipient stages fresh air will work a cure. It is singular that the most destructive of all diseases should be curable or preventable by the simplest, cheapest and most readily obtainable of all remedies. And yet it is a fact that the most common of all diseases is preventable by the use of a few simple rules.

by the adoption of an elaborate system of education and the expenditure of vast sums.—Detroit Free Press.

DANGEROUS SOLILOQUY.

"Talking to one's self may not always be a sign of idiocy," said a Chicago man, "but I know one case where it was. I used to have the habit myself. At the same time I was trying my hand at literary work. One day when wrestling with the final chapter of a love story I put my work aside for awhile and went out for a walk with a young woman. My thoughts, however, were with my story, instead of my companion. Suddenly, after a period of silence, the words of a pretty love scene occurred to me, and with an intensity of passion I bellowed out the hero's proposal. The young lady thought I was talking to her."

"Yes," she said, "I am willing. I have loved you for a long time."
"I had the hardest kind of a time to get out of the entanglement, and from that day to this I have never talked to myself."

WARNING OR CHANCE.

Near the newly made grave of Alfred Beit is one of the most curious tombs in England, that of Lady Anne Grimston, daughter of the earl of Thanet, who died two centuries ago and was buried in Tewin churchyard. Upon her deathbed she disregarded the efforts of those who sought to administer spiritual comfort. An atheist she had lived, an atheist she would die. "It is as likely that I should rise again from the dead," she said, "as that a tree should grow out of the middle of my coffin." A tree has grown out of the middle of her coffin—an oak—and by its side a sycamore. The vault is square, of brick and granite. The two trees first filled the interior before they could find a way out. When they did burst through the masonry they so spread as completely to envelop the grave.

BEYOND HELP.

"I can only promise a cure, baron, on condition that you lead a temperate life in future."
"So you think I'm incurable, do you, doctor?"

GREAT MIXTURE.

Banker—You have a lady stenographer?
Broker—Yes.
Banker—And she reads novels while she works?
Broker—Well, sometimes she glances at the one she leaves open on the desk. But why do you ask?
Banker—Oh, just because between every quotation of stock there was something about the villain with white teeth, the ever-pur-sued heroine and the hero with the manly chest."

WHAT'S THE USE?

"What did your mother whisper to you before she let you come out on the veranda with me?"
"To scream if you tried to kiss me."
"Why, I wouldn't dream of such rudeness."
"Let's go back in."

NO FEAR OF PIRATES.

Giggles—What do you think of my new joke book, old man?
Critters—Well, I can't understand why you took the trouble to copyright it.

HOGS FORETELL WEATHER.

In the country you have no need of a better weather bureau than a drove of hogs. By their actions it is easy to tell the approach of a storm, a cold wave or a hot spell. When you see a sow going to her quarters to put her bed in order, picking up straw and leaves with which to render it comfortable, mark it down that a northeaster is coming and will continue for three or four days.—N. Y. Press.

WONDERFULLY PERSISTENT.

Father—Is that young man capable of sustained effort?
Daughter—Well, you ought to see him trying to color a meerschaum.

THE KINGFISHER.

The conviction of a boy at Dorking who had a kingfisher in his possession has called attention to the law's sound protection of this rare and beautiful bird all the year round. To appreciate the kingfisher's beauty it is not necessary implicitly to believe the old legend that it was originally a plain gray bird, but, upon being let loose from the ark, flew toward the setting sun, and had its back stained blue by the sky and its lower plumage scorched by the sun to gorgeous hues. No doubt the Dorking boy meant to keep his kingfisher alive, and not to kill it, and use its dried body as a charm against thunderbolts or moths, or to hang the body up so that it might point with its bill to the wind's quarter. Old beliefs found all these uses for the kingfisher, the last being alluded to by Shakespeare, when he speaks of "smiling rogues" who "turn their halcyon beaks with every gale and vary of their masters."—London Chronicle.

HOW ARE THE MIGHTY FORGOTTEN.

"An' when they gits to Italy," goes on Bill, growin' quite enthusiastic, as you might say, over the idea, "he'll have the time of his life rumminatin' 'round them old palaces of the dogs."

"Dogs!" I gasps. "Palaces of the dogs?"
"Doggies, then. I s'pose you might call it," says he, "if you're so blamed pertiklar, though it ain't spelt that way. It's spelt dogs, only with an 'e'."

"Bill Gladox," says I, "for an uneducated man you are the most ignorant I ever see. Do you mean to tell me you ain't never heard of the 'Doddies of Venice' that has ben mayors of the town for the last hundred years or more?"

"No, I ain't," says he, "an' no one else, neither. Ther' ain't any such folks there. Dodge ain't an Eyetalian name nohow. It b'longs in Connecticut. Nor but what ther's a few mebbe in New York an' Rhode Island, but not in Italy, not by a derned sight."—Washington Star.

JUST TALK, TALK, TALK.

A Wall street man with an absorbing love for two nephews told these stories of them recently: "My little three-year-old nephew was playing in a pile of sand the other day, and his mother saw him through the window. She called to him, and told him if she saw him there again she would have to whip him. He replied:

"Well, mamum, you had better not look out of the window, then, 'cause I'm going to do it again."
"Another one, aged six, has been visiting his aunt, and after a spell of misbehavior, on his part, she took him into the parlor to reason with him. In telling his mother about it afterward, he said:

CRUEL INTERRUPTION.

Marie, the farmer's beautiful daughter, as she posed for the young artist from the city, talked.

"I love the beautiful in art and nature," she said. "The mid-summer sky of tender, smiling blue, frail wayside flowers, the song of birds, the whispering wind in the wheat, the gurgling streams, the lowing line—these give me ineffable joy. I feast on nature's loveliness, nature, and more, far more than food to me is—"

"Mary Jane Green!" cried a shrill voice from the kitchen, "wot fur did you go an' eat that big plate of pork wot wuz left over from dinner? I told you we wuz goin' to warm it up for supper. I declare to goodness, gal, your appetite's enough to drive us out o' house an' hum!"

SNAKE RINGS RETURN.

Resurrect your old snake rings, for they are again in vogue, says a New York letter. All kinds of serpentine jewelry has again come to the fore, and is being shown by fashionable goldsmiths. Some of the serpent rings are unique and costly. Many old rings are being done over by jewelers, and the proper chic touch put to them. Some of the conceits are set with large diamonds and emeralds, and are direct importations from Paris.

ONE OF THOSE QUICK CHANGES.

"Did you notice how the bride said: 'I will?'"
"She'll be saying: 'I won't' inside of a week."

Buttsy—Well, wot's all dis gaff about Ham bein' potted?

A JAPANESE BATHROOM.

A tiny space four by six feet. In it were four objects, a stool to sit upon when washing oneself before getting into the bath, a shining brass wash basin, a wooden pail and dipper, in which to fetch the bath water, and the tub. The tub, like most private baths, was round, casket shaped and made of white wood. It was perhaps 30 inches in diameter and 27 inches high. A copper funnel or tube passing through the bottom went up inside close to the edge. This, filled with lighted charcoal, supplied heat for the water. The pipe was higher than the tub, so the water could not leak inside. A few transverse bars of wood fitted into grooves and formed a protection so the bather could kneel in the tub without coming in contact with the hot pipe. The walls of the room were of white wood, with a pretty grain, the floor of pine, laid with a slight slope and grooved so the water might flow into a gutter and through a bamboo pipe to the yard. A moon shaped lattice window high up let in air and light. As a provision for more ventilation the two outside walls for a foot below the ceiling were lattice of bamboo slats.

As my eye traveled from object to object I quickly sized up the cost. For the tub eight yen, and it would last indefinitely; two yen for the brass basin; 50 sen for the pail and dipper, and 25 sen for the stool. Eleven yen would fit up my bathroom, and I asked for nothing nicer.—The Craftsman.

"THE LEGITIMATE DRAMA."

In a round table discussion among theatrical men and critics who were drawn together at one of the downtown cafes the other day because of the rapidly approaching opening of the dramatic season, the question was raised as to what constituted the "legitimate drama," and many unique definitions of the much-used term were given. Naturally, the theatrical men wanted it to include about everything to be seen on the boards, from the one act burlesque of the variety theater to the Shakespearean tragedy, while the critics, meeting that they were the custodians of the public taste, wanted to be less inclusive. The argument reached a point finally which produced more heat than was tolerable under weather conditions, when it was brought to a conclusion by the definition furnished by a manager. "The legitimate drama," he said, "comprises all those plays which, their author being dead, may be produced without any payment of royalties."—Philadelphia Record.

BUSINESS COLLEGES ARE FAILURES

In small cities and towns, because:
1. There is not a sufficient population to support a GOOD school;
2. Such schools are usually conducted by persons who are NOT qualified, or who make it a practice to travel about and defraud their patrons;
3. There are few if any opportunities for their graduates to secure employment in such localities;
4. The THOROUGH business colleges are located in the larger cities and are conducted by persons who are qualified;
5. The graduates of business colleges in small cities or towns can not secure employment in large cities when thrown in competition with the THOROUGH graduates of high-class schools, as business men have no time to experiment with incompetents.
Therefore, be wise. Send for the finest 68-page catalogue ever issued by a commercial school, before deciding to throw away your money for a worthless training at some cheap school.

GREAT TRICK BY HOUDIN.

How the Great Conjuror Fooled a King and His Court.

One striking feat of Robert-Houdin is described in full detail in his "Confidences," and he held out hopes, which were never fulfilled, that he would one day publish the explanation of how it was worked. I have never seen anything like a detailed or, in any way, satisfactory solving of the puzzle, until in Mr. Evans' volume I came upon one most successfully offered by Mr. Brander Matthews, professor of English literature, novelist, essayist, dramatist and an expert, if ever there was one, in the lore of conjuring, to say nothing of other kinds of shows. Briefly, the trick performed by Robert-Houdin before Louis Philippe and his court at St. Cloud, was this: Several handkerchiefs were borrowed from the audience, made into a packet, and placed under an opaque glass bell. Spectators were asked to write down upon slips of paper descriptions of places whither they would like the handkerchiefs to be transported. Robert-Houdin took the slips to the king and asked him to choose three from among them, which was done. The three chosen named one of the candelabra on the mantelpiece, the dome of the Invalides and the chest of the last orange tree on the right hand of the avenue, on which a French window at the back of the saloon stage opened. The king chose from these the orange tree chest, and immediately sent people to run and keep guard over it. Then followed some well devised "patter," and the pretty device of lifting the glass bell and discovering a turtle dove in place of the handkerchiefs and presently one of the messengers returned, having dug from the mound in the chest a small, rusty iron coffin. The key was taken by the king from the turtle dove's neck, and the coffin on being opened was found to contain a parchment, signed and sealed by Cagliostro, stating that just 60 years before he had placed the handkerchiefs there for Robert-Houdin's use. Beneath the parchment was the packet of handkerchiefs, also sealed with Cagliostro's seal (which had been given to Robert-Houdin by his friend and teacher, Torricelli—a stage name taken by the Comte de Griey).—London Standard.

TOO MUCH TEA DRINKING.

Physical deterioration is alarming all England and health committees are running around seeking the causes and then warning people about their manner of living. One of the dangers they find to be guarded against is the teapot. Excessive use of strongly brewed tea having been proved to be fatal to the best physical condition, to reduce this danger to a minimum the tea should not be made strong and should be drunk within two minutes. But how prevent the working woman, for instance, from keeping the deadly teapot on the kitchen stove and "drawing a cup" whenever she feels so inclined? The climate is really first cause, the cheering poison but the second. One has to be comforted by tea in London's fog and chill and a health committee is powerless to change the climate.

BATTLE FOR FREE DRESS.

Women of Small German Town Resent Male Dictation.

The women of the little town of Nordhausen, in Germany, have risen in revolt against the order of the municipal authorities, forbidding them, for sanitary reasons, to wear dresses with trains.

All dresses which touch the ground come within the definition of "trains," and the police have received orders strictly to enforce the new decree. A fine of $2 is the penalty for the first offense, $2.50 for the second and a day's imprisonment for the third.

The women who are resisting, the law have scored one point by obtaining the opinion of eminent legal authorities to the effect that the town council has partially exceeded its right in issuing this draconic decree. It appears that the council has a right to prevent women from trailing their dresses along the ground, but cannot prevent them from wearing dresses which would touch the ground if not carried in the hand.

The council then replied that women can wear skirts yards in length if they like, but they must hold them up. One inch of skirt trailing on the ground makes the wearer liable to arrest and punishment.

A league of resistance has been formed and the members have pledged themselves to wear long skirts and to defy the authorities. They declare that they will pay the necessary fines, and even go to prison, rather than sacrifice their right of arraying themselves in the most becoming costumes.

DESERVED THE PRIZE.

When Lord Rayleigh, the British scientist, was a student at Cambridge the examiners set among other problems one which they based on an article in a German mathematical periodical supposed unlikely to have penetrated to Cambridge. Only two men solved it, Mr. Strutt (Lord Rayleigh) and another. The examiners asked the other man about this problem. "Oh," he said, "I take the — (mentioning the name of the periodical), and I was very glad to find that, thanks to an article in the last number, that problem came out quite easily." When Mr. Strutt's turn came they expected a similar answer, but he astonished them by replying: "The fact is, gentlemen, that I sometimes contribute to —, and I could not help feeling greatly flattered that you should have thought my little problem worthy of a place in this examination." He was awarded the prize.

BUTTONS CAME IN HANDY.

Again the rumor that men's dress clothes are to be of blue cloth. Such a change would be merely a reversion to an old-time style. Balzac wore the blue dress coat with metal buttons. A play of his, "Les Ressources de Quinola," was in rehearsal at the Odéon theater in Paris and Balzac, ever hopeful, expected an immense success. In order to appear in gala costume on the opening night he ordered a blue dress coat lined with satin, the buttons of which were of solid 18-carat gold. "Quinola" was a ghastly failure, and for some time after it left the bill Balzac was exceedingly hard up. Whenever ready money failed him—and ready money failed him often—he used to cut one of his buttons off and sell it to a jeweler, and to the day of his death the coat with the gold buttons and its successors were called by Balzac and his friends "Les Ressources de Quinola."

RADIUM RAYS HURT GEMS.

Many precious stones are influenced by the action of the rays emanating from radium. A scientist exposed a colorless diamond from Borneo to these rays. The stone was colored a light yellow after eight days and a decided lemon yellow after another eight days. On heating the diamond to 250 degrees centigrade (482 degrees Fahrenheit) the yellow color was diminished, but it could not be entirely got rid of even at a red heat. A colorless Brazil diamond showed no coloration. A peculiar behavior was shown by a pale blue sapphire from Ceylon. After only two hours' exposure to radium bromide it showed a coloration, green at first, then light yellow and after a few more hours reddish yellow. After a fortnight it was a dark yellow, approaching chestnut. The color could be got rid of by heating, but the light yellow color always returned on cooling.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder renders the food remarkable both for its fine flavor and healthfulness.

No alum, no phosphate—which are the principal elements of the so-called cheap baking powders and which are derived from bones, rock and sulphuric acid.

THE GAME LAW

Open Season Includes First But Not Last Date—Penalty $5.00 to $50.00.

But few persons understand the law protecting game in this state and the penalties for violating same. The following table gives the open season for all kinds of game, which hunters would do well to preserve for reference.

Open dates includes first date but not last date given:

Squirrel—June 15 to Sept. 15.
Squirrel—Nov. 15 to Feb. 1.
Woodcock—June 20 to Feb. 1.
Doves—Aug. 1 to Feb. 1.
Duck and Goose—Aug. 15 to April 1.
Deer—Sept. 1 to March 1.
Wild Turkey—Sept. 1 to Feb. 1.
Rabbits—Nov. 15 to Sept. 15.
Quail, Partridge and Pheasants—Nov. 15 to Jan. 1.

No open season for English, Chinese or Mongolian Pheasants.

License—Non-resident, same as by his state.

Prohibited—Sale or transportation of bird or fowl killed within state.

Netting and trapping birds is prohibited.

Hunter may be transported with his game.

Penalty for violation, $5 to $50.

Netting, seining, trapping poisoning, or dynamiting fish is prohibited.

Song birds and other insectivorous birds protected the year round.

Results of Registration.

Last Tuesday was registration day for all incorporated towns in Ohio county. As far as we have been able to learn little interest was shown and a light vote was registered. The Republicans generally turned out better than the Democrats. Of the two Hartford precincts the total registration was 195 divided as follows:

East Hartford	55
Dem.	35
Rep.	16
Ind.	3
Pro.	1
West Hartford	140
Dem.	75
Rep.	60
Ind.	2
Pro.	3

This is a loss of 25 in the two precincts as compared with last year. A loss of 7 in East Hartford and 18 in West Hartford. In East Hartford the Democrats lose 5 and the Republicans 2. In West Hartford the Democrats gain 4 and the Republicans lose 6. The total will be increased to 200 by the registration of those who are out of town or prevented by sickness, before the County Clerk.

LAST CALL

For Taxes in Ohio County.

You only have until the 31st day of October to pay your taxes without interest and penalty. After this date, under the acts of 1906, passed by the last Legislature, you will have to pay 18 per cent. interest and penalty, and also Clerk's cost for tax warrant. So don't fail to pay in time to save this extra cost. R. B. MARTIN, Sheriff Ohio County.

EQUITY TOBACCO

Advertised to be Sold for Taxes Alleged to be Due City of Owensboro.

(Owensboro Messenger)

J. C. O'Bryan, city tax collector, has posted bills advertising the sale of fourteen hogsheds of tobacco at public auction Friday, October 12, to satisfy a city assessment against the American Society of Equity, Turpin & Wood and S. B. Lee. The claim is for taxes amounting to $1,000, a penalty of $60, interest amounting to $2.67 and costs of $63.60, making a total claim of $1,126.27. The tobacco will be sold to the highest bidder at the factory of Turpin & Wood, corner of Fourth and Elm streets. The sale is the result of a misunderstanding between the city and the A. S. of E. in regard to the assessment, as the society does not think that it should be called upon to pay city taxes on the tobacco.

THICKNESS OF EARTH'S CRUST.

Some Valuable Information Obtained by British Scientist.

Information of a valuable character concerning the thickness of the earth's crust and the intensity of the heat of the globe's internal fires has been obtained as the result of a series of investigations continued over a prolonged period by Hon. R. J. Strutt, F. R. S., the well-known British scientist and son of Lord Rayleigh, says the Scientific American.

By testing rocks of many kinds from all over the world, Mr. Strutt has been able to determine the percentage of radium present in the earth's crust. He has ascertained that the presence of radium, whether it exists in minute or large quantities, can be easily denoted in all rocks of igneous origin, but the percentage is highest in granitic formations, while the basaltic rocks contain the minimum proportions of the element. He has also provisionally calculated the total quantity of radium present in each mile of depth of the globe's crust, from its uniform distribution, and estimates on this basis that not more than one-thirtieth of the total volume of the earth is composed of rocks which are to be found on the surface.

As a result of his mathematic deductions, he estimates that the depth of the earth's rock crust is approximately 45 miles. This deduction coincides to a certain degree with the calculations of Prof. Milne, the well-known seismologist, who has been engaged in investigations to the same end by the observation of the earthquake tremors. Prof. Milne concludes that at a depth of 30 miles below the earth's surface exist rocks whose physical properties are similar to those to be found on the exterior.

Furthermore, as a result of his researches, Mr. Strutt, in agreement with the assumption advanced by several astronomers, more especially Mr. Pickering, that the moon is not a "dead" sphere, but that it continues to possess volcanic energy. And moreover, he makes the startling statement that he is of opinion that the internal heat of that body is far in excess of that obtaining within the interior of our own globe.

AMERICAN CLOTHES.

London Military Tailor Tells Us What He Thinks of Them.

G. B. Winter, the London tailor who came to America to design new uniforms for the army, was talking in Philadelphia about American clothes.

"I have only flattering things to say of the best American clothes," said Mr. Winter. "They don't differ at all from the best London clothes. They are made of pure, soft stuffs that fall in graceful lines. They are cut with propriety. They are worn with distinction. Hard things have been said here about English clothes, but I am sure that those who said them spoke in ignorance. At any rate, I can only say of the best American clothes that they are among the finest clothes in the world."

Mr. Winter, his hands in the pockets of his well-cut coat, laughed. "I don't, you see," he said, "reply harshly. I am not like the young girl whom I heard a bookseller once tell about. A young man failed to attend a dinner, though he had accepted the invitation. He sent no word of excuse, but the next day he called and said to the daughter of the house: 'I only called, Miss Morris, to apologize for disappointing you last evening, but really I couldn't find the time to come. If—'"

"Oh, don't speak of it," the young lady answered. "We forgot about you entirely till after everybody was gone, when father happened to notice that the decanter on the sideboard and the box of cigars on the mantel had each something left in them."

MISNOMERS IN DAILY USE.

Philologist Points Out Peculiarities of the Language.

"A silver shoehorn is a misnomer," said a philologist. "So is a wooden milestone. So is a steel pen."

"A shoehorn is a piece of horn, according to its name. How can it be made of wood—though they have them, the same as nutmegs in Connecticut—nor can a pen, which strictly means a feather, be made of steel."

"Irish stew is a dish unknown in Ireland. Jerusalem artichokes were never heard of in Jerusalem. Prussian blue does not come from Prussia, but from the red prussiate of potash."

"Galvanized iron is not galvanized; it is zinc-coated. Catgut is not the gut of cats, but of sheep. Kid gloves do not come from kid skins, but from lamb skins."

"Sealing wax has no wax in it, nor is it a by-product of the seal. Wormwood bears no relation either to wood or worms. Rice paper is never made from rice. Salt is not a salt."

"Copper coins are bronze, not copper. India ink is unknown in India. Turkeys come from our own country, from Turkey never."

PERFECTLY SAFE.

Cholly—Mr. Jones, would you let me marry your daughter?

Mr. Jones—No, sir!

Cholly—Good! Then I guess I'll propose to her.

Rough River Land for Sale.

As Executor of Wm. C. Rowan, deceased, I will, on Saturday the 13 day of October, 1906, on the premises, offer for sale a large body of Rough river bottom land, which has recently been divided into nine tracts of about 100 acres to the tract, each having a river front. These lands lie on the north bank of Rough River in Ohio county between the mouth of Noreek and Barnetts creeks and are heavily timbered with a natural forest of fine beech and other species of small timber. These lands are rich and fertile and are capable of being developed into first class farms which will produce, when cleared, fifty or seventy-five bushels of corn to the acre. A first class opportunity to those desiring to purchase a river bottom farm on easy terms. The sale will be made on basis of one-half cash, balance in one and two years evidenced by notes, retaining vendors lien, bearing six per cent interest.

On same day and at same place I will also offer for sale another tract of land belonging to said estate, commonly known as the "Barrett place" the same lying North of and adjoining the James Sandefur farm in Ohio county. This tract of land is practically well timbered. A detailed description of the lands and plats thereof can be secured by calling on or addressing me at Hartford Kentucky. J. W. FORD, Executor.

Colored Methodist Church Dedicated.

The new Methodist church in Hayti was dedicated Sunday. Although the weather was very unfavorable yet the attendance was large and spiritual tide was high. There were people from the country in large numbers and also a great many from Morgantown, Leitchfield and other places. The Presiding Elder, Rev. Joseph Cortney, preached in the morning—a very feeling sermon on the "Power of the Gospel," after which the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, and 65 came forward and communed. Dinner was spread, in fashion of an old time basket meeting, in the old church where every body ate to his sufficiency. There was plenty and some left. The dedication took place in the afternoon conducted by Rev. Joseph Cortney, the Presiding Elder, assisted by Rev. C. Pyles, Rev. H. M. Corrall, Rev. W. L. Noel and Rev. H. Dupee. The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. H. Dupee, an ex-pastor of the church. The church was taxed to its seating capacity at every service during the day. Rev. C. Pyles, of Augusta, Ky., and also an ex-pastor of this church, preached at night.

The new Methodist church in Hayti was begun in 1901 and was completed this year at a cost of $1,150 for which amount it only owes about $15.00. ONE PRESENT.
